

Lunch Time Classes

French for Professionals (Beginners)

The Alliance française de Hong Kong organizes a French course for beginners with professional needs during lunch time break.

The method used "Objectif EXPRESS" is a task-based language teaching method and focuses on the use of authentic language and by asking students to do meaningful tasks using the target language.

The textbook is divided into 10 units. Each unit starts with a listening activity followed by a brief explanation of the vocabulary or grammar pattern to be retained and application exercises.

A cultural section is included at the end of each unit.

Themes include:

- Greetings
- Phone conversations
- Taking a trip
- Staying at a hotel
- Shopping and eating out
- Describing one's work and company
- Describing a typical work day
- Solving a problem related to banking, health and technology

Twice a week, 2 hours x 10 weeks = HK$1,240
